

CURRICULUM VITAE Professor John Neville RUST

Address: Leverhulme Centre for the Future of Intelligence, 16 Mill Lane,
Cambridge CB2 1RX

Telephone: +44(0)7876684568 (Mobile)

Email: jnr24@cam.ac.uk

Previous Employment

2008-2019 Director, The Psychometrics Centre, University of Cambridge
2015-2019 Director of Research, Cambridge Judge Business School
2008-2015 Director of Research, Dept. Psychology, University of Cambridge
2005-2008 Director, the Psychometrics Centre, Cambridge Assessment
2002-2005 Professor of Psychometrics, City University, London
1991-2002 Reader in Psychology, Goldsmiths College, University of London
1976-1991 Senior Lecturer in Psychometrics, Institute of Education
1972-1976 Researcher and Lecturer, University of London Institute of Psychiatry

Qualifications

1974 Ph.D. Psychology. London University Institute of Psychiatry.
1976 M.A. Philosophy. Birkbeck, University of London.
1970 B.Sc. Psychology. 1st Class Honours, Birkbeck, University of London.

Honours and Distinctions

Chartered Psychologist (CPsychol), Fellow of the British Psychological Society (FBPS,
Fellow of the Royal Statistical Society (FSS)

Previous research funding at Cambridge since 2008

2014-18 ESRC ORA Plus 3rd Round “International Cognitive Ability Resource” (ICAR)
2014-16 EU FP7 ICT-Programme “Wikirate”.
2011-12 ESRC Researcher Development Initiatives (two),
2014 Innovate UK
Others: Pearson Assessment, Talent Lens, Eton College, Microsoft Research, Camfed,
GL Assessment, Speechlink Multimedia, Hogrefe, ECPA.

Postgraduate Teaching at Cambridge

PhD completions at Cambridge: Emily Savage-McGlynn, Michal Kosinski, Arielle
Bonneville-Roussy, Luning Sun, Iva Cek, Vaishali Mahalingam, Youyou Wu, Fiona
Chan, Sandra Matz, and Aiden Loe.

Psychometrics module on Social Science Research Methods Programme (DTC).

The Psychometrics Centre

The Psychometrics Centre was established at City University in 2003, moving to Cambridge Assessment in 2005 and from there to the University of Cambridge in 2008.
In 2011 it became a University of Cambridge Strategic Research Network.